

10,000 hours show you volunteer, you rock.

Faculty and Staff,

Thank you for your interest in the 10,000 Hours Show (10K). The Office for Community Involvement and the United Way are excited to start this fun and rewarding student volunteer recruitment effort. Though only students are eligible to receive a concert ticket, we hope that you will use your enthusiasm and influence to encourage your students to volunteer.

Here are a few simple ways to encourage your students to volunteer

- Keep your students informed about the latest volunteering events and opportunities at www.montana.edu/community or www.10000hoursmsu.org
- Provide encouragement by describing your volunteer experience. Is there a non-profit you enjoy helping? How can your students share your passion?
- Encourage students to apply the skills they're learning in the classroom to a volunteer experience. Do you teach a web design or business course? Non-profits are always in the need for experienced individuals
- Remind students that volunteering is a great resume builder. In today's competitive job market, volunteer experience can set their application above the fold
- Most importantly, remind your students that volunteering is fun and rewarding; it provided each student the opportunity to develop their skills and interests while helping make the Bozeman community a better place

As faculty and staff, you have a tremendous influence on the individuals that pass through your classrooms. Exercise your influence, encourage your students to volunteer!
